

Prospects Good For GOP Win In 26 Key States

Editor's Note—This is the first of two articles reporting the claims of Republican leaders in 26 key states on how their party will fare in the November election battle for control of Congress.

By JACK BELL and REED SMITH
CINCINNATI (AP)—Republican leaders exuded confidence today that the GOP will more than hold its own in the western half of the country in the battle for control of Congress.

Through their public statements, however, ran some dark threads of doubt about the farmers' reaction to the Eisenhower administration's flexible price support program and fears of possible party losses in depressed employment areas.

Net Gains Outlined
In interviews with Associated Press reporters, organization leaders attending the Republican National Committee campaign strategy conference which ended Wednesday claimed a net gain of 17 House and 5 Senate seats in 14 key Midwestern, Rocky Mountain and Far Western states.

The present Senate lineup is 48 Republicans, 46 Democrats, 1 independent and 1 vacancy. In the House, there are 218 Republicans, 213 Democrats, 1 independent and 3 vacancies.

No GOP National Committee member or state chairman was willing to concede publicly any losses to the Democrats, although Vice President Nixon said frankly such results were possible in areas where unemployment is high.

Michigan May Improve
Michigan was mentioned as among such areas and John Feikens, state GOP chairman, said this factor must be taken into account. He said economic conditions in October might determine the Michigan outcome in November elections.

"The economic situation in Michigan is tight," he said. "We Republicans think it will improve before the election and that it may prove the determining factor."

Sen. Homer Ferguson, Republican, is opposing Democrat Patrick McNamara for the Senate and Republican Don Leonard, former state police commissioner, is battling Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams, seeking re-election.

Feikens said he thinks Republicans have a "fighting chance" to gain one seat in the House.

John H. Rouse, executive secretary of the Republican party of Wisconsin, predicted a third term for GOP Gov. Walter Kohler and a gain of one or two seats in the party's congressional delegation.

Opposition Tough
In Minnesota, Republicans are bucking a tough, adroit campaigner in Democratic Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey. But State Chairman Gordon Yock said he expects Val Bjornson to win the GOP senatorial nomination in a Sept. 14 primary and take Humphrey in November.

F. Peavey Heffelfinger of Minnesota, the party's national finance chairman, thought the outcome may be determined to a great extent by farmer reaction to the Eisenhower administration's farm program. Humphrey has been a vigorous backer of rigid, high-level price supports.

Yock predicted Minnesota Republicans will hold their five present congressional seats and win two of the four now held by Democrats.

Illinois Looks Good
Morton H. Hollingsworth, Illinois GOP chairman, expressed confidence Republican Joseph T. Meek,

Cornell 4-H Boy State Champion

EAST LANSING (AP)—Two boys and two girls with outstanding 4-H Club records have been named to represent Michigan in the national achievement competition at Washington.

They are: George McFadden, 18, of Cornell, Delta County; Franklin W. Kelly, 19, of Gobles, Allegan County; Evelyn Carlson, 17, of White Cloud, Newaygo County, and Ethelyn Thompson, 18, of Ravenna Route 2, Muskegon.

The four were judged on the basis of project records, personality, leadership, future plans and their achievement booth displays.

Erwin Davis, 18, of Durand, Shiawassee County, was the winner in a field of 27 entered in the tractor-operating contest Wednesday.

Runners-up in the achievement contest included Eunice Carlson, 18, of Daggett, Menominee County; Nancy Lou Nyquist, 17, of Menton, Westford County, and Eldon Olson, 19, of Kingsley, Grand Traverse County.

SOME ERROR—Sgt. Robert G. Burdick, stationed with the 12th Marines, in Tokyo, Japan, was out of luck when he tried to cash this check. It was erroneously made out for $100,000.75 and also $75, depending on how one looked at it. Because it was half right and half wrong, the check was worthless. Burdick got the check from his mother in Chicago.

Nixon Says G.O.P. Must Win This Fall Or Face Extinction

CINCINNATI (AP)—Vice President Nixon, beaming confidence in public, has warned the Republican National Committee in private the party must come out on top in the 1954 congressional contests or face political extinction.

If the Republicans fail, "the swing is going to be completely to the left and the Republican

Pachuco Sweeps Nation As Mark Of Hoodlumism

By HERBERT D. WILHOIT

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The tattooed mark of the Pachuco has swept across the nation as a symbol of modern-day youthful hoodlumism.

Its common form is a cross with a sort of halo of dots, made with a pin or knife and ink on the web between the thumb and forefinger, or on the arm or chest. It puzzles and worries civil and military authorities in many areas, but in Los Angeles it is old stuff, considered virtually passe.

Is it smart-aleck feeding of the young ego, naive copy-cat activity or a sinister secret terrorist organization?

A Los Angeles authority, Police Lt. Richard D. Whitley of the juvenile detail and former commander of the gang detail established in 1948, said today he has no evidence of any national organization of Pachucos.

Toughest Are Leaders
On the contrary, he said, the youthful gangs of this and other large cities in which there may be Pachuco members have no formal organization; no officers, dues, bylaws or rules. The fellow who is the toughest and talks the best is the leader; the "organization" is confined to tight geographical or neighborhood boundaries.

The Pachuco tattoo has appeared recently on 300 airmen at Chanute Air Force Base, Ill.; in Kansas City; in Des Moines, Iowa, where police called it "juvenile copy-cat stuff"; at Lackland AFB, Tex.; at Sampson AFB, Geneva, N. Y.; on five AWOL men at Lockbourne AFB, Ohio; in Columbus and the Ohio State Penitentiary; at Ft. Campbell, Ky., and nearby Clarksville, Tenn.; on civilians in Omaha, Neb., Chicago and New York; and on two former bar girls in vice-ridden Phenix City, Ala.

Started In Texas
Lt. Whitley, who flew to Chanute to advise the military on the Pachuco problem, said:

"I am convinced that this recent spread is simply a symbol of unsocial youth. One boy hears about it, or sees the mark on some body else in jail or in the military guardhouse, and thinks it would be a good idea to have his own mark to boast about. Chances are many haven't the slightest idea what 'Pachuco' means."

"We know what it means but it's impossible to translate accurately. We heard it as long ago as 1941 and it came into usage in 1943 in the riot-fights between zoo-suiters and servicemen in Los Angeles."

"The term Pachuco came to the party will be as dead as the dodo bird," Nixon said Wednesday.

His pep talk to the national committee, holding a workshop conference in Cincinnati, was behind closed doors. But his remarks were overheard by reporters.

In public he forecast a record-smashing vote would give Republicans better control of both houses, where they now hold narrow margins. But in private he said:

"I think this election is a horse race. I think it is extremely close in the House, extremely close in the Senate."

However, he insisted the election could be won if the candidates pegged their campaigns on President Eisenhower's record of "peace, progress and prosperity."

"The Democrats have no great and compelling issue," the vice president said at a press conference. "The one big issue on which they relied has been pulled out from under them—and that was an economic depression or recession."

Bids Open Sept. 28 On $950,000 Prison Job At Marquette

LANSING (AP)—Michigan's prison building program moved a step forward today with announcement that bids would be opened Sept. 28 for a new 162-man cell block at Marquette Branch Prison.

Corrections Director Gus Harrison said the three-tier building, constructed with a steel frame-work and masonry walls, will cost an estimated $950,000.

When completed, the cell block

Legionnaires Ask Armed Retaliation In Red Aggression

WASHINGTON (AP)—The American Legion gave overwhelming backing today to a proposal calling on the United States to meet any further Communist aggression in Southeast Asia by "immediate military retaliation."

The legionnaires agreed at their 36th annual convention that this retaliation should be taken "with or without the cooperation of the other free nations of the world."

Sen. Ferguson Calls Them 'Doomocrats'

OWOSSO (AP)—Sen. Homer Ferguson (R-Mich) hung the label of "Doomocrats" on the Democratic party in a campaign speech at Owosso Wednesday.

Ferguson told a farm group the Democrats "have already nearly talked the country into a depression and have nearly wrecked the automobile industry."

Defending President Eisenhower's farm policies, Ferguson said the administration had to face huge surpluses piled up during Democratic administrations and that it was costing taxpayers $30,000 a minute to pay storage costs on farm surpluses.

Flanders Files 33 Charges In McCarthy Case

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Flanders (R-Vt) said today he will file a formal objection if most of the specific censure charges aimed at Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) "go by default."

There were indications for a time that that might happen in the rapid pace of a special Senate committee heading into the third day of investigations based on Flanders' resolution to condemn McCarthy's official conduct. Then the picture changed a bit.

Accusations Overlap

Flanders himself has filed 33 separate charges in support of his resolution. And he said in an interview:

"I would not be satisfied to let most of them go by default. I would appeal, and send my brief to the committee, even if it had recessed."

Senators Morse (Ind-Rep) and Fulbright (D-Ark) have leveled an additional 13 charges against McCarthy. Some of the accusations overlap and the six-man committee investigating them has sifted them down into five general categories. The categories omit a number of accusations Flanders made.

In the first two days of hearings, the committee finished putting in evidence on three of the five main groups of charges, except for possible odds and ends, with McCarthy sitting by largely silent, leaving his case in the hands of Atty. Edward Bennett Williams.

Secret Data Cited

That left two to go, and these are largely interlarded with the recent McCarthy-Army hearings and the divergent findings of the subcommittee that conducted them.

The remaining two categories of charges related to accusations that during the McCarthy-Army hearings the Wisconsin senator (1) encouraged government employees to violate the law by giving him secret information, and (2) produced a 24-page document based on a secret FBI report in possible violation of the law.

President Makes 4-State Flight To See Flood Control

By GORDON G. GAUSS

DENVER (AP)—A vast land where men fought to the death for water and one where surging floods have torn apart the works of man will unfold before President Eisenhower when he makes a four-state flight Saturday.

Millions of dollars—including federal funds—have been spent to channel churning streams of the region into giant irrigation and power projects or to confine floodwaters behind dams to save farms and towns.

Billions of dollars will be needed to carry out other projects under discussion, some of which are arousing bitter controversy.

The President's flight, designed to give him a glimpse of reclamation and flood control developments, will take him across Colorado, Wyoming, Nebraska and Kansas. Twice he will pass over the Continental Divide with peaks towering up to 14,000 feet, then he will fly over deserts, grazing lands and high plains which usually grow much of the nation's wheat. This year some of the plains country is in the drought disaster area.

Reclamation officials and Secretary of Agriculture Benson will be along to give Eisenhower briefings during the trip, which will cover nearly 2,000 miles.

The President has scheduled 30-minute stops at Grand Junction, Colo.; Casper, Wyo.; and McCook, Neb., during which he will shake hands with Republican political candidates and make informal airport talks.

Egypt With West But Avoids Pact To Arouse Arabs

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser's military government declared today that "Egypt today stands in every respect with the West" but that a defense pact with the western powers now would only provide the Communists with fuel to stir up "the still suspicious minds of the Arabs."

A communique from the ruling revolution council that deposed King Farouk two years ago said it realized the United States and Britain would never invade the Arab world and added:

"It's (Egypt's) culture, trade and economic life is linked to the West. Ideologically Egypt is outspokenly against Communism. Militarily Egypt considers that the only possible global danger to the Middle East is an invasion from Russia."

The communique was issued to foreign correspondents as a "background paper." Apparently it was aimed at clarifying Egypt's foreign policy, which is undergoing a major swing since the British agreement on the evacuation of the Suez Canal zone and the opening of talks for American economic assistance.

Cut River Bridge Builder Dies At 85

BAY CITY (AP)—William J. Meagher, 85, a widely known Michigan bridge and highway builder, died Wednesday night at his Bay City home. It was the third death in his family in as many days. A brother, Patrick, 80, died Monday and Patrick's wife, 82, died Tuesday.

William J. Meagher built Saginaw's Court St. Bridge and Benton Harbor's Blossomland Bridge among others, and also built River Road, a four-lane highway connecting Bay City and Saginaw. Meagher also built the piers for the Cut River Bridge, one of the highest in the state, in the Upper Peninsula.

Hurricane Cleanup Begins; 54 Killed In New England

BOSTON (AP)—Repair crews and public health experts worked feverishly today to avert further perils to health and safety as the aftermaths of Hurricane Carol, which gave New England a multi-million-dollar battering Tuesday.

Other workers and volunteers searched for missing persons, many of them children. Fifty-four persons were known to have been killed.

Nineteen were listed as missing, including a 10-month-old baby girl swept from the arms of her mother, Mrs. Robert M. Crosby, 25, of Brockton, Mass.

Mrs. Crosby said her baby, Sharon Eleanor, was torn from her arms as she tried to escape from the wind-buckled cottage on Onset Island, Mass.

No trace was found of the baby up to early today. Nor was there any trace of the three Winick children, Paula, 7, Elsie, 5, and Neal, 2, who are feared drowned in Falmouth.

Their mother, Mrs. Martha Winick, 33, and her sister, Judge Golda R. Walters, 46, of the Ayr District Court, perished when their cottage was swept into Great Pond. Their bodies were found on the beach.

Fully one third of New England was reported without electrical power early today, posing a mammoth health problem since an estimated 3½ million persons had no means of refrigeration for foods.

Emergency repair crews were brought here to direct the clearance of the jungle of broken and uprooted trees which cluttered most of New England's streets and parks and private properties.

Disaster Staff Does Good Job At Battle Creek

BATTLE CREEK (AP)—Hurricane "Carol" gave the Federal Civil Defense Agency FDA some answers today as to how effectively it could function once it had been removed from the nation's capital.

The agency had barely moved into its new quarters at Percy Jones Army Hospital when the hurricane raced across New England.

President Eisenhower sent orders to Civil Defense Administrator Val Peterson and his staff to expedite aid to the stricken area just as they were getting acquainted with their new headquarters.

Eisenhower's orders were handled efficiently by the Battle Creek staff, including "Disaster Mary." She is 39-year-old Miss Mary Tobin, an FCDA disaster project analyst. She has been with the government for 16 years.

Miss Tobin and the rest of the agency staff coordinate the activities of various relief agencies which might send aid to stricken areas, keeping them informed as well as President Eisenhower.

Swimmer Lost; Survivors Cling To Net 7 Hours

Coast Guardsmen, sheriff's officials and commercial fishermen of the Garden peninsula today are searching the waters and shores of Big Bay de Noc for Leland Bergeson, 43, Garden fisherman, believed to have drowned Wednesday when the fishboat Dawn, owned by John Breed, of Garden, was swamped in rough water two miles south of Round Island.

Two other fishermen, Edward Guertin, 52, and Howard Ansell, 27, were rescued after hanging on to a pound net stake for seven hours.

The three men were lifting a herring net when a heavy wave swamped the 30-foot fishing tug. The boat sank immediately. Guertin and Ansell grabbed a pound net stake and tied themselves to it with their suspenders and their shirts and some short pieces of rope.

Grabbed Floating Plank
Bergeson tried to get into the cabin of the sinking boat to retrieve the life preservers. He was unable to accomplish it, however, and when he bobbed to the surface, Bergeson grabbed a plank that was freed from the tug as it sank.

Bergeson attempted to swim to shore with the plank as a support. The two other fishermen said they saw him for about a quarter of a mile but then he disappeared. Guertin and Ansell said that Bergeson was wearing high fishing boots and they did not believe he had discarded them.

Rescued At 4 P. M.
The mishap occurred at nine a. m., Wednesday. When the boat and crew failed to return to the dock at Garden, the owner, John Breed, started out to search for the missing men. He found Guertin and Ansell tied to the pound net stake about 4 o'clock.

Except for near exhaustion and bruises on their bodies from the pummeling of the waves, the rescued men were uninjured. They went out with other fishermen this morning to search for Bergeson.

Coast Guardsmen also are searching the waters of Big Bay de Noc for the missing fisherman and state police and sheriff's officers are patrolling the shoreline. Bergeson is unmarried.

Godfrey Grounded; Gets Aviation Award

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (AP)—Arthur Godfrey, who can't fly because his pilot's license has been suspended, was scheduled to come here today to receive an award for his contributions to aviation.

The National Aviation Trades Assn.'s regional meeting was to present the radio and television performer with a diamond-studded silver punch bowl. Engraved on the bowl is a map of Virginia with a diamond marking Godfrey's home town of Leesburg.

Godfrey's pilot's license was suspended for six months March 16 when he was charged with careless flying at Teterboro, N. J., airport Jan. 7. Godfrey denied any carelessness.

Hire Engineers To Make Power Study For City

Pfeiffer and Schultz, engineering firm of Minneapolis, was hired by Escanaba City Council in special meeting last night to make an engineering study of the city's electric power problem.

The firm's bid was $2,450 for the service. A report to the Council is expected to be ready within about 60 days, said Charles R. Podas, Pfeiffer and Schultz associate engineer. The firm is prepared to start the survey next week.

The Council was unanimous in its selection of Pfeiffer and Schultz, whose bid was the lowest of three under final consideration. The other two were Gates, Weiss and Kramer, Chicago, $4,250; and Sumner Sollitt Company, Chicago, not in excess of $8,500.

Scope of Survey

Pfeiffer and Schultz are consulting engineers for the Gladstone municipal power plant project.

The survey of Escanaba's electrical problem, as established by the city, will include the following:

1—Analyze a proposed contract which the REA Cooperative (Alger-Delta Electric Cooperative Association) has offered the city of Escanaba. Alger-Delta proposes to supply the city with "surplus" power for 10 years from a generating plant to be built with REA funds.

2—Analyze a proposition which a private power company (Upper Peninsula Power Company of Houghton) has offered the city of Escanaba. The power company proposes to purchase the city's electric distribution system and build a generating plant here.

3—Analyze a proposition for the city of Escanaba to construct and operate its own municipal power plant.

Aid Council Decision

4—Present the advantages and disadvantages of the three proposals in a report to the Council.

The Council in discussion last night said that such an analysis and report is necessary to assist the Councilmen in arriving at a decision in the solution of the power problem.

Under the heading of municipal power, the engineering firm will include a study of electrical loads, present and anticipated; investigate possible sites for a municipal power plant alone and in combination with a central station heating plant; make preliminary designs and layout drawings.

Detailed cost estimates of the proposed power plant and connections with the present electric and steam distribution systems; tabulations showing annual operating costs; and a suggested method of financing through a bond issue, will also be presented.

ABDUCTED WOMEN

The Sabines were one of the aboriginal Italian races who lived in the mountains near Rome. According to legend, their women were carried off by the Romans, among whom the male sex predominated.

Mayor Censures Gayeff, Accepts His Apologies

Members of the Escanaba City Council last night censured Todd Gayeff, chairman of the Council's power advisory committee, for making a public statement to press and radio that "all the facts" in connection with the power study had not been made available to the committee.

"The article released by the chairman of the power committee reflects on the integrity of the Council and insinuates that the Council has withheld facts from the committee," Mayor Harlan Yelland said. "That has not been the case. And speaking for myself, it will not happen as long as I am on the Council."

Gayeff said that while his statement was not authorized by the committee it reflected a consensus of the majority of the committee members but was not intended as a criticism of the Council.

Manager Makes Statement

Gayeff offered his apologies to the Council, and they were accepted.

Saying that he was "not pointing any fingers" Gayeff added that information on "new proposals" by the Alger-Delta Electric Cooperative Association had not been made known to the committee.

City Manager A. V. Aronson said that he and his staff had met with Wynnand Nieuwenkamp, Alger-Delta manager, in connection with discussion of minor change in a proposed contract with the city, but the Alger-Delta had not yet furnished the city with copies of the new proposal.

He said that he had withheld nothing from the committee because he had no information to give them, adding:

"As far as one member of the committee is concerned, my integrity appears to be in question. I want it known that in my work for Escanaba and its people, my integrity is of the highest, and I challenge anyone to say otherwise."

Committee Disagrees
Mayor Yelland told the manager that "you do not have to make any apologies" but that "I do accept the apologies of Mr. Gayeff in the spirit in which they are given."

Members of the nine-man power advisory committee present at last night's meeting of the Council were in disagreement on some points of the committee's study.

Gayeff informed the Council that as chairman he was "faced with members ready to resign because of action taken by the Council in the last two weeks" in preparing to hire consulting electrical engineers to make a power study.

Hugh Grow, secretary of the power committee, said that he questioned whether the committee and the engineers would not be doing "a duplicate job" and saw no reason for the committee to continue its study if the Council is to accept an engineering firm's report.

To Study Priv. Power

Henry Wylie, committee member, pointed out that it had been a recommendation of the committee to Council to hire an engineering firm to make a municipal power study. He said he approved of an engineering study covering all three proposals—the Alger-Delta contract, municipal power, and private power.

Councilman Edward J. Cox said in his opinion the work of the power committee had been completed and it should be disbanded with a letter of thanks to the members.

Other members of the Council disagreed, however, and on motion of Councilman Robert E. Lemire the committee was instructed to continue its study, to interview Upper Peninsula Power Company officials on its proposal to purchase the city's electric distribution system, and to present recommendations on all three phases of study.

Councilman Cox cast the only "no" vote on the motion. "We should get our recommendations from the consulting engineers," he said.

Under previous Council instruction the power committee had been asked for a report, not recommendations.

Proposal Not Final?

Robert Losse, of the committee said the committee would like to talk to U. P. Power Company officials to determine if their proposal was final.

Mayor Yelland approved, saying that he had talked with an official of the private power company who indicated that further negotiations on the proposal would be considered. The committee still has work to do, he said.

Meanwhile the Council must go forward with hiring consulting electrical engineers, so that no time will be lost, he added.

A telegram was received the meeting from Harold C. Hayes of Escanaba suggesting that the Council ask written recommendations from power committee members on proposed solutions to the power shortage problem. It was placed on file.

Public Health Nurse Resigns

Miss Irene Larson, R. N., of 908 Montana Ave., Gladstone, has resigned her position as staff nurse with the Delta-Menominee District Health Department on Aug. 31, and will be employed by the Chicago Board of Education starting Sept. 7, 1954.

Miss Larson joined the public health nursing staff of the Delta-Menominee District Health Department in the Escanaba office on July 1, 1949. In November, she was transferred to Menominee, where she relieved until March, 1950. Since that time she has worked in the northern part of Menominee County, Bark River-Harris area, and part of Escanaba.

Miss Larson is a graduate of the Walther Memorial School of Nursing, Chicago, and obtained her bachelor of Science degree at St. Louis University. She was a flight nurse in the U. S. Army for 2½ years before taking her degree at St. Louis University.

Miss Larson plans to continue her academic work on her masters degree while working in Chicago.

On Monday, Aug. 30, 1954 Miss Margaret Quinn, Mt. Clemens, Mich., began an eight week period of field experience in the Delta-Menominee District Health Department.

Miss Quinn is a graduate from St. Joseph Hospital, Mount Clemens, Mich., and has been attending Wayne University to obtain her academic work in public health nursing. Field experience is taken to meet university requirements in public health nursing.

Miss Quinn has had experience in private duty nursing, supervisory and staff nursing in Herman Kiefer and St. Joseph Hospital. She was employed for four years by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company in Mount Clemens, and has worked in the Macomb County Health Department since 1950. When she completes her field experience here, she plans to return to work in the Macomb County Health Department.

4-County TB Survey Planned

The Iron-Dickinson and Delta-Menominee District Health Departments have recently jointly planned to carry out a project for making a mobile X-ray chest survey. The Iron-Dickinson District will plan its survey from Sept. 29 to Oct. 8. The Delta-Menominee District will follow from Oct. 12 to 29. These four counties are served by Pinecrest Sanatorium.

The Upper Peninsula has long experienced tuberculosis cases and death rates double or more than the corresponding rates for similar areas in other parts of the state. The above mentioned counties are no exception. This survey will uncover unknown cases of lung cancer, enlarged hearts and other abnormalities.

By special and intensive promotion, it is believed that the number of films taken during a mobile X-ray chest survey can be substantially increased and that more films can be obtained on persons (homemakers, retired persons, rural people, etc.) where the incidence of positive findings will be greater.

Touring Envoys Say British Can Live At Peace With China

Editor's Note: This is a dispatch from the correspondent of the London Daily Herald, organ of the British labor movement, accompanying the Labor party delegation touring China.

By DERYCK WINTERTON
London Daily Herald Correspondent
CANTON, China (AP)—Britain and China can live at peace and the bar of isolation and misunderstanding can be broken down, former Prime Minister Clement Attlee and his Labor party delegation said here Tuesday night.

Attlee, leftwing leader Aneurin Bevan and the other six members of the delegation issued their declaration at a joint Chinese-British news conference ending their historic mission to China and Russia.

Misunderstandings Erased
The delegation leaves China today for Hong Kong after meetings with Chinese and Russian leaders which have changed them from mystery figures to personal acquaintances.

For the first time Chief of State Mao Tse-tung and Premier Georgi Malenkov have heard the views of the West at first hand and have been able to express their point of view across the table.

The delegation statement said the visitors had been impressed "by the fact that the lack of communication had led to much misunderstanding of each other's position."

"We believe that there is an earnest desire on the part of the spokesmen of revolutionary China to end this isolation," it continued.

"For our part we reciprocate most heartily. We are convinced that the peace of the world depends upon closer communion between China and the rest of the world."

Railway Worker Pensions Raised

FRASER, Colo. (AP)—Liberalized retirement, sick and unemployment benefits for railroad workers and their widows are provided in a bill signed Tuesday by President Eisenhower.

Under the law, payments toward the benefits may be increased.

In the past, the employer and employee each paid 6 1/2 per cent of his salary, up to $300 a month, toward his retirement annuity. Now, the payments will be on salaries up to $350 a month. The employer only contributes 1/2 or 1 per cent of the worker's salary, up to $350 a month, toward sickness and unemployment benefits. Contributory payments were formerly on salaries up to $300 a month.

The new law provides that an employee's benefits will be not less than half his regular pay on his last railroad job in the preceding year up to a maximum of $42.50 a week. Almost all employees will get at least $30 a week, a railroad retirement board spokesman said.

Another important revision reduces from 65 to 60 the age at which widows may receive monthly annuities. Widows with children receive benefits regardless of age.

Retired workers may now earn as much as $100 a month without forfeiting their annuity in that month.

Only employees who earned at least $400 in the preceding year may receive unemployment and sickness benefits. The minimum was formerly $300 a year.

great ideological differences between the New China and the democracies of the West," the Britons said "nevertheless it seemed to us as it did to the leaders of the (Chinese) government that these are not a barrier to peaceful coexistence and cooperation in the many fields where we have common interests."

The delegation thanked the Chinese for their hospitality and members of the Chinese government for their willingness to give their time. They expressed "special thanks to Chou (Premier Chou En-lai) for the amount of time he put at our disposal."

Impressed By Progress
The statement went on: "We have been deeply impressed by the efforts of the Chinese people to build their nation on modern lines. We have seen the great exertions of the people in the face of an inheritance of primitive industrial techniques and consequences of so many centuries of social stagnation."

"We sympathize with the efforts the Chinese people are making. We believe that this sympathy and understanding should be shown by the rest of the world in immediate and practical form."

From Hong Kong, Attlee goes on to Australia and the rest of the group to Japan.

Great Lakes States Can Work Out Mutual Waterway Problem

THE Michigan Legislature this year enacted a law enabling the state to co-operate with other states bordering the Great Lakes in control and supervision of lakes problems.

Although no other state has yet created such authority, representatives of seven states agreed at a meeting in Chicago recently that a Great Lakes compact should be set up to help solve mutual waterways problems.

About 75 officials from Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York, Minnesota and Michigan agreed to meet again in December to work on proposed legislation for the compact.

The importance of this work is intensified by the development of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

Even today the Great Lakes provide one of the world's greatest commercial waterways. The problems that develop in regulating and controlling this traffic cannot be solved by any one state.

The Michigan Legislature used great foresight in becoming the first of the Great Lakes states to enact a law enabling Michigan to cooperate with other states on Great Lakes problems.

The St. Lawrence seaway promises to be a tremendous influence in the expansion of industry and commerce for Great

Words, Wit & Wisdom

By William Morris

One of the recent "summer replacement" television shows seems to have kindled a great deal of enthusiasm in one of my young Oakland, Calif. readers who writes as follows: "There's a new TV show this summer called 'The Duke,' starring an actor named Paul Gilbert. He's very talented, being able to prize-fight, dance, sing and play several musical instruments. In fact, some of the girls in our neighborhood are going to start a Paul Gilbert fan club.

"But one thing bothers us about the show and that's how to pronounce the title. I know it sounds silly to have any trouble at all pronouncing a little bitty four-letter word but even the people on the show don't know how to say it right. Anyway they don't all pronounce it the same. Mostly they say 'dook,' like Duke Ellington, but one or two people make it sound as though it had two syllables, something like 'dee-yook.' Would you tell us which is correct?"

The proper British pronunciation and the one which most American dictionaries enter as the preferred pronunciation is DYOOK, with the "u" pronounced the same as the "u" in cube.

Try And Stop Me By BENNETT CERF

A group of old, old friends of a big-shot Hollywood writer were invited to a Broadway prelude of his latest epic. It was a disaster from beginning to end—dull, incoherent, and tasteless. The big question was: what to wire their friend on the Coast, who, they knew, would be awaiting their verdict with bated breath? One bright soul finally solved their dilemma. The telegram he composed, and which they all duly signed, read: "It's certainly an expensive picture."

Chorines and newcomers to the Broadway scene agree that Richard Rodgers is the easiest of big-time producers for whom to audition. Lesser lights often scare them to death, but Rodgers settles back in his chair, grins, and reassures them by saying, "Take it easy now. There's no pressure and Lakes ports. Work on this project is now under way although it will be several years before the full impact of the development is attained.

The Great Lakes states will be ready to act collectively in solving the inevitable problems that will arise if the other states follow Michigan's lead and enact the necessary enabling legislation.

PUBLIC RELATIONS
(Marquette Mining Journal)

IT is regrettable, we think, that so few industrial concerns in the Upper Peninsula avail themselves of the opportunity to display their wares, this year, in the new industrial exhibit building at the Upper Peninsula State Fair in Escanaba. Reports indicate that only a handful of major industries in the region had arranged exhibits, and there was plenty of room for others.

There may be many reasons for this poor showing; principally, perhaps, that not all of the likely industrial prospects were canvassed in ample time before the fair to adequately plan a suitable display.

Assuming that industry, generally, is public-relations conscious, here, it seems, was an excellent opportunity to attract the attention of thousands of persons at a time when they were relaxed and ready to be shown. Obviously, the visitors to the industrial building went there expecting to see industrial exhibits. The fact that, according to reports, they saw only a few is hardly conducive to building interest in future industrial displays at the U. P. Fair.

Public relations cover a wide and almost endless field of promotion. It is powerful and exact science that is coming, more and more, to play a prominent part not only in advertising and salesmanship, but in management-labor relations and other areas of industrial operation. A good public relations director, schooled in the basic principles of publicity and promotion, can do much to keep his company's best foot forward.

Perhaps the U. P. Fair management was not quite energetic enough in its first-year operation of the new industrial exhibit building. Perhaps it did not go far enough in setting forth the sales-advantage of a comprehensive industrial display. Perhaps it has learned a lesson this year that can be applied for another year.

We hope, as the good example, that those industrial concerns who were represented at Escanaba this year will reap a maximum benefit from the time, effort and money put into it.

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—Whatever doubts have been expressed as to the wisdom of the virtually unanimous action of Congress recently in stripping the Communist party of its legal right to exist as a political party must have been swept away by the news dispatches from Paris telling how a bloc of 100 Communists sitting in the French national assembly furnished the majority to kill the allied plan for the defense of Europe.

Few Americans realize that the Communist party in France, which has been permitted to infiltrate labor unions and French cultural institutions, now has all the rights of any other political party there. It has elected 100 deputies to the French Parliament, and they contribute from their salaries to finance the Communist party. Their allegiance is more often to the Soviet government than to France.

This was dramatically illustrated not long ago when the French national assembly rose in tribute to the fallen heroes of Dienbienphu in Indo-China — but the 100 Communist deputies sat in silence.

The final vote rejecting the European Defense Community agreement was 319 to 264. But if the bloc of Communist votes —there were 99 present—were subtracted, it would make the vote 264 in favor of the EDC treaty to 220 against it.

BALANCE OF POWER

The presence of the Communist bloc inside the French parliament means that a Soviet-controlled group holds the balance of power in the government of one of America's principal allies, on whose territory many of our soldiers are based and where atomic weapons are necessarily located.

The French attitude, generally speaking, toward Communists in government is not as hostile as it is in America. There has been a well-defined effort lately to keep Communists out of the executive departments, no cabinet is apparently willing to demand that Communists be deprived of their status as a political party.

There have been no parliamentary investigating committees in France to sound a warning and alert the French people to the dangers of Communist infiltration. Instead, the Communist party is accepted as a political entity rather than a conspiracy. This lack of awareness of the danger of allowing a group of deputies who are fostering the policies of a foreign power to occupy the legitimate status of a political party is one of the strangest paradoxes in French history.

One explanation given is that many of the Communist deputies were prominent in the French underground during the period that the Nazis occupied France and that they became popular because of their wartime devotion to the cause of France. But little by little some French leaders have been disillusioned, and it will not be surprising if a new issue arises now in France—to find a way to outlaw the Communist party.

100 COMMUNIST DEPUTIES

Some steps have been taken in the last few years to cut down Communist representation by a change in the electoral law which reduces for the Communists the number of seats in proportion to the votes cast—a rule that does not affect non-Communist parties. But this apparently has not been enough to eliminate the Communist power. For today the 100 communist deputies are a controlling bloc in the French parliament. They have just been able to win for Soviet Russia one of its biggest diplomatic victories, as it is well known that Soviet propaganda and Communist partisans in France have worked for months to force a truce in Indo-China and to defeat EDC.

As so often happens with a conspicuous issue, it is true that the EDC had many weaknesses which made it possible for nationalistic feelings to be aroused. The Communists merely exploited an unpopular plan, or rather one that was played up as likely to give Germany a chance to rebuild her armament and attack France.

But, with or without any type of EDC plan, the rearmament of Germany has become essential to the defense of Europe, and it will be interesting now to see how the Communists maneuver French policy to prevent, if possible, the adoption of any formula for German rearmament by the countries allied against Soviet Russia.

What they have needed in France is a few French McCarthys and, if they had had them, maybe the free world and the western alliance would be stronger today. For the Communist party in France is not a political party—it is a full-fledged "fifth column" not unlike the one by which the Nazis penetrated the French parliament and army prior to 1940 and thereby brought about the easy conquest of France. WASHINGTON —(NEA) —If you can stir up a batch of plastic tooth filling or dream up a death ray weapon with a range of 500 yards, send your scheme to the Government.

The National Inventor's Council under the Department of Commerce has drawn up a list of 200 such technical puzzles which the armed forces are anxious to have solved.

The list is especially tailored to the inventive ingenuity of the American public. Amateurs, scientists, technicians and research groups are being urged to take a look at it and come up with some bright ideas.

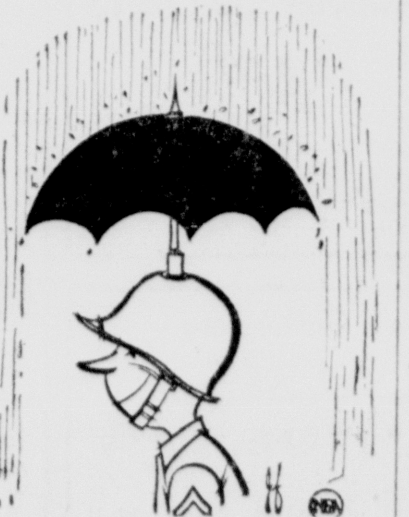

Many of the problems should appeal to do-it-yourself minded people all over the country. For example, there is need of a landing gear for light aircraft which can be easily adapted to water, land or snow.

Some of the items are more complicated. It will take a real genius to masterplan a vehicle versatile enough to perform the feats demanded of what the list terms, "Arctic Transport."

This buggy has to be designed to traverse all types of Arctic terrain which, to mention a few, include: Hard rock, solid frozen ground and ice, deep snow, slush, ponds, marsh, muck, floating bog, boulders, gravel, brush, shallow rooted trees, lakes, fies and steep embankments.

Cold weather and snow present some of the most baffling problems. There seems to be no practical substitute for old-fashioned down and feathers which are used in mountain and Arctic sleeping bags. In time of emergency substitute materials should be on hand.

A personal heating system is needed for men exposed to sub-zero temperatures. This device must distribute heat over the human body and yet be independent of any restrictive or heavy electrical power source. It cannot be a fire hazard with "hot spots" and must operate for a minimum of eight hours without refueling.

A chemical such as calcium chloride melts ice on runways at temperatures as low as 65 degrees below zero, but it has a corrosive effect on metal. Therefore the Air Force wants a chemical or substance that can do the job without causing damage to aircraft.

Storage of meats is also a big headache. Dehydrated corn beef hash, meat and rice taste more like fish and metal after sitting three to four months at temperatures around 100 degrees.

Here, briefly, are a few more of the desired gimmicks on the list: A lightweight piece of equipment capable of translating ordinary speech into written word.

A BUGGY FOR THE MILITARY, MAYBE? While the National Inventor's Council was issuing a list of puzzles the armed forces would like solved, inventor Elie P. Aghnides was unveiling this strange new vehicle in Indianapolis. Called the "Rhino," it's a 10,000-pound buggy that rolls on six-foot tilted hemispherical wheels over sand (above), mud, swamps, snow and other rugged terrain, also cruises in water (below) under Hydro-jet power. Built by Marmon-Herrington Co., the vehicle also can cruise highways at passenger-car speeds, with only a narrow rubber tread of the fattened, tilted wheels touching the road.

Protection for the individual soldier against flame attack which will be comfortable and practical to wear.

So They Say

As the shadows lengthen over my years, my confidence, my hopes and dreams for my countrymen are undimmed. —Former President Hoover.

The Eiffel Tower looks like the Empire State Building after taxes. —Raymond Loewy, industrial designer.

Of particular danger to the nation are the attacks on our schools . . . as if they were a festering point of Communist activity.—Selma Borchardt, vice president of American Federation of Teachers.

McCarthy and religion are too controversial for barbershops. —Barber Vernon L. Rose.

The thing about McCarthy that bothers me is his disrespect for due process of law.—TV Reporter Edward R. Murrow.

I'm a Republican, of course. But I don't want to actively campaign unless it is absolutely necessary. —Former President Hoover.

I always do better the second time around. —Rocky Marciano, on second title bout with Ezzard Charles.

I never go (to the movies), not even my own. Why should I? I never saw myself on the stage either, you know.—Actress Ethel Barrymore.

Good Evening . . .

By CLINT DUNATHAN

REPORT TO THE PEOPLE—There are two sides to every question, according to a friend of mine, who defines the two sides as "Mine" and "Yours."

This is usually the way most questions are debated. Opinion is 90 per cent viewpoint, and often the viewpoint is influenced by prejudice and misinformation.

The above is preamble to the observation that in the viewpoint of many people Escanaba is a well-governed city worthy of praise.

The Louisiana Municipal Association, for example, recently requested a copy of Escanaba's annual report, prepared by the city and published as a supplement of the Escanaba Daily Press to assure complete distribution to the citizenry.

In requesting a copy of the Escanaba annual city government report, the Louisiana Municipal Association noted that the report was praised by the Municipal Publication Administration Clearing House "for its design and eye appeal."

Certainly Escanaba citizens should be well-informed. Our Council-Manager form of government encourages citizen interest and participation (approximately 50 citizen-volunteers are now serving on Council-appointed boards and commissions), and all aspects of city government are an open book to the public. The possibility of erroneous viewpoint should be slight.

RESPONSIVE — Local government is most responsive to the expressed wishes and desires of its citizens, and municipal government is no exception. Sometimes the policy-making and administrative officials may recommend against what appears to be a popular program demanded by the people—but the end result is that the citizens get what they want, which is proper and in the American tradition.

Even in what might be considered by some as "the little things" in municipal government the emphasis is on courteous response to reasonable requests.

Mrs. John Walch of Escanaba, state chairman of gerontology for the Michigan Federation of Women's Clubs, expressed appreciation for the city government's responsiveness in one particular:

"I was delighted to find upon my return the benches installed on Ludington Street. Thank you very much for them, as for your cooperation in meeting the needs of our senior citizens through the use of the recreation center," she wrote the Council and city manager.

No doubt there would be many of the community's "senior citizens" who would voice a fervent "Amen" to Mrs. Walch's thank you to the city for the benches along Ludington Street.

The benches are cited as an example of local government's responsiveness to the needs of the people. Municipal services are based upon the expressed desire of the citizens plus their willingness to pay through taxes for the services they receive.

CONFIDENCE—Escanaba citizens should have confidence in their city government, since they are so much a part of it.

It is a part of the policy of the Council to encourage citizen interest in city government. The viewpoints of many people, as expressed through recommendations of boards and commissions, is held to represent the thinking of the majority of our citizens.

Escanaba now has a larger number of municipal boards and committees serving local government than at any time in its history. These citizens are appointed by the Council and serve without pay.

There is the Planning Commission, Zoning Board of Appeals, Safety Advisory Committee, Port Authority, Carnegie Public Library Board, Power Study Committee, Recreation Board and perhaps a couple others I have overlooked.

All of these boards and commissions are appointed to study and consider some phase of municipal government. Some make recommendations, others act in a semijudicial capacity, and at least one is responsible for policy.

The number of our citizens who accept appointment (the personnel keeps changing from year to year) and serve at some inconvenience to themselves indicates their sincere desire to maintain a form of city government in which they have confidence.

Holiday Traffic Patrol Planned

All Delta County law enforcement agencies will have extra patrols on the highways over the Labor Day weekend. National Guard personnel who will work primarily as second men in patrol cars have been assigned to the Sheriff's Department and State Police.

Representatives of the various participating departments met today with Prosecutor Nicholas Chapekis to discuss routes to be covered and methods of patrolling. It was decided that use of the marked police cars would probably be the best influence to slow down traffic but Escanaba police will also use an unmarked car on traffic duty.

Citizens are being urged to travel as little as possible and to avoid traveling during the peak traffic hours. Sheriff William Miron said that Saturday will probably have the heaviest traffic load as cars from lower Michigan which began trips on Friday night arrive in this area. He said that he expected Sunday to be relatively quiet with the load increasing Monday afternoon and night when traffic starts back to the Lower Peninsula.

Northland Buys Associate Grocers

The Northland Associate Grocers, with office and warehouses at Norway, Mich., have purchased the inventory, fixtures, trucks and building of the Associate Grocers of the Sault, it has been announced.

The move was necessary, said Geo. Hewlett, manager of the Northland group, to better serve their expanding business in the east end of the peninsula, particularly in Chippewa, Luce and Mackinac Counties. Furthermore, the added volume will make it possible to buy in quantities large enough to receive the maximum discount so that the savings can be ultimately passed on to the consumer.

The Associate Grocers of the Sault had been in operation for 18 years, while the Northland Group at Norway was organized 7 years ago.

Cliff O'Donnell of Escanaba is president of Northland Grocers; Rudy Heikkala, Marquette, is vice-president; William Kivisaari of Norway is secretary, and George Hewlett of Norway is treasurer and general manager. Other directors are Ernest Oliva, Iron Mountain; Tryg Olsen, Escanaba; Weston Poquette, Menominee; Ben Golas, Iron River; Sheldon Collins, Negaunee; Roy Jacques, Iron Mountain; and George De Ridder, Norway.

Northland trucks now serve the grocers in practically all of the Upper Peninsula of Michigan and Marinette and Florence counties of Wisconsin.

The traffic toll for the year through July was down 81 over last year. Traffic deaths for the first seven months of this year totaled 927. Injuries in the period totaled 30,331, a decrease of three per cent, and accidents totaled 103,289, a one per cent increase.

Five Injured In Two-Car Crash

Five persons were injured in a two-car collision Wednesday at 2:20 p. m., at the blinker light intersection at Bark River when a coupe driven by Kenneth Viaw, 16, Bark River, crossing US-2, struck a sedan driven by Herman W. Hafeman, 49, Powers, broadside.

The injured are: Terry DeLoughary, 16, Bark River Rte. 2, a passenger in the Viaw car, hospitalized with fractured rib and bruises; Kenneth Viaw, the driver, thrown to the pavement, bruises; Clarice Hafeman, 41, cuts on left leg; James Hafeman, 9 months, lacerated lip.

Viaw and members of the Hafeman family were treated at Pinecrest Sanatorium.

Damage to the Hafeman car was estimated at $700 and the Viaw coupe was a total wreck.

Hafeman told Michigan State Police who investigated that Viaw drove on to the highway without stopping. Viaw and his companion said they had stopped for one car and did not see Hafeman when they started to cross. No tickets were issued.

Marquette Plans Installation Of Speed Checker

MARQUETTE — Marquette Police Department will place into operation its "Speed Watch," a device which electrically times the speed of vehicle.

Manufactured by Traffic House, Inc., the speed timer clocks the rate of speed of motor vehicles on a meter by means of electric impulses, as the car or truck passes over a given point.

It has been tested out for several days and found to work with pin-point accuracy.

Trial runs were made with drivers of cars checking speeds on their speedometers as they passed the given point at the time which the timer began to register.

The figures registered on the meter coincided with those on the speedometer, and some motorists, whose speeds were checked Tuesday on North Fourth street, were given warnings by police about driving over the 25-mile an hour limit.

Recommend Traffic Light At 'Y' For Additional Safety

The Escanaba Safety Advisory Council in meeting last night approved a motion to recommend to the City Council that the city erect a traffic control light at the "Y" intersection on Stephenson Ave.

The recommendation was made following a study requested by the Council.

Mrs. William Weyerker Jr., Safety Advisory Council chairman, presided at the meeting held in City Hall.

Other business before the Safety Council included the following:

Recommended to the Council that it approve as a traffic safety measure the application of Kenneth Lequia to break the curbing in front of Pete's grocery, 507 S. 17th St.

Heard a report from Police Chief Jack Finn that school safety patrols will be started when school opens this fall.

Did not recommend additional traffic control signs or signals for 1st Ave. N. and 10th and 11th Streets because it is not warranted by the volume of traffic.

Did not recommend additional lighting in the 300 block, 2nd Ave. S., because the black is as well lighted as others in the area.

Heard a report by Mrs. Weyerker on a proposed water safety program and received a suggestion that Escanaba service clubs may assist in financing installation of play pens for youngsters at Ludington Park Beach next summer.

Churches Gain

NEW YORK (AP)—The Christian Herald magazine, an inter-denominational Protestant publication, predicts that total church membership in the United States will pass 100 million by 1956.

Church membership of all denominations last year, it said, totaled nearly 95 million, a 2½ million gain over 1952.

Junior Sailors To Hold 'Carnival' At Escanaba Saturday

Over 20 sailing prams are expected at Escanaba for a small boat carnival in the yacht harbor here Saturday afternoon. The junior sailors of both Escanaba and Gladstone, and each town's fleet of the 7½ ft. boats will take part in this holiday activity.

Plans for the carnival were announced following a meeting at the yacht club in Escanaba yesterday. In addition to relay and "best skipper" races which any local or visiting pram sailor from 8 to 16 may enter, there will be trophy events, a special contest to decide the pram champion for all of Green Bay, and refreshments for the boys and girls participating.

The Green Bay championship races for pram skippers are being held for the first time this year. The Escanaba Yacht Club has invited clubs at Gladstone, Menominee, Green Bay, Sturgeon Bay, Fish Creek, and Ephraim to send a representative here for the 1954 contest. Next year, according to plans, the races will be at the home port of the 1954 winner.

J. P. Spud Field Day Sept. 14

Dr. A. D. Edgar from the Potato Research Center at East Grand Forks, Minnesota, Dr. N. R. Thompson and D. L. Clananah of the Department of Farm Crops at Michigan State College, will have important parts in the program at the Upper Peninsula Potato Field near Lake Linden in Houghton County on Tuesday, September 14. The program will begin promptly at 10:00 A. M.

Dr. Edgar will discuss potato storages, ventilation, temperature and humidity control methods, particularly as these factors apply to the newly harvested crop.

Dr. Thompson will demonstrate potato digger operation to reduce mechanical injury to a minimum.

D. L. Clananah will be in charge of the variety trial plot which contains, among the ten varieties, several that show a good deal of promise.

Fertilizer trials, comparing 10-10-10 and 8-16-16 with 3-12-12, and spray trials comparing five fungicides will also be observed. A demonstration of subsoil tillage to a depth of twenty inches is also on the program.

Commercial exhibits of potato machinery or supplies will be welcome, according to Wm. Cargo, Extension Specialist in Farm Crops, who is cooperating with Wallace Keskiitalo, Houghton 4-H Agent, in planning the Field Day program.

lately given a political pat on the back by President Eisenhower, will defeat Democratic Sen. Paul H. Douglas in November. But Hollingsworth's outward confidence evidently was not fully shared by some Republican campaigners.

Hollingsworth said Republicans have a chance of upsetting Democrats in three House races, in the 2nd, 9th and 12th districts.

There have been reports Republicans are in trouble in Colorado, but GOP State Chairman Charles A. Haskell couldn't see it that way. He predicted a Republican sweep in contests for senator, governor and four house seats. Democrats now hold two of the latter and the senatorial post.

Capt. Angwall, who has operated his own Great Lakes ships in addition to fishing fleets on Green Bay, Lake Michigan and Lake Superior, said he plans to build an addition to the Dormer plant next year. It is the only cold storage dock on Great Lakes shipping lanes in this area.

Revival Vetoed In City Of Vice

PHENIX CITY, Ala. (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham was invited to conduct a revival in this once gaudy, bawdy river town, but the military commander in charge of law enforcement here said no.

The Phenix City Ministerial Alliance asked the famed missionary to come here to campaign against sin and Gov. Gordon Persons added Alabama's official welcome to the invitation.

But Maj. Gen. W. J. Hanna, in charge of National Guardsmen maintaining martial law, said Wednesday he feared his men would not be able to handle the crowds expected to attend such a revival. Some estimates placed the expected crowds as high as 30,000. Phenix City has a population of about 25,000.

Such a huge visiting throng, Hanna told the Ministerial Alliance, might disrupt the cleanup drive which seeks to rid Phenix City of gambling, prostitution and other forms of rough and tumble vice.

National Guardsmen took over law enforcement duties here in the wake of the unsolved slaying June 18 of A. L. Patterson, attorney general nominee.

Swimming Beach To Close On Saturday

Escanaba's municipal beach will close on Saturday, Sept. 4, it was announced this morning by Art Peterson, city recreation director. No life guards will be on duty after that date, Peterson emphasized.

The beach drew thousands of youngsters and adults during the summer months and for the 13th consecutive year there were no drownings.

Swimming instructions were given to hundreds of youngsters by instructors Francis Lueneburg and Warren Johnston.

Lueneburg was in charge of the beach and life guards were Johnston, Paul Baldwin, Jim Heiden, Bill LeMire, Arni Dunathan and Charles Anspaugh.

Weather Picture Good In This Area

The fair weather present in Escanaba today is only part of a general good weather picture over the whole country. Escanaba received the most rain in the Upper Peninsula Wednesday and that was only .02 inches. Other areas reported only passing sprinkles.

Temperatures will be in the 80's today with clear skies and westerly winds. The air is dry and cool and will produce lower readings tonight with the expected temperature at 52.

Yuma, Arizona registered the hottest temperature, 104 degrees, while elsewhere showers were soaking about two-thirds of that state. The new hurricane "Dolly" was reported about 485 miles east of Atlantic City N. J. early this morning.

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market continued to make good progress in the early afternoon today in the second session of its recovery.

Some gains went to around two points. Losses were small.

The rise lacked vigor, however, and trading was at a pace in the neighborhood of Wednesday's low 1,790,000 shares.

Higher were Katy Railroad preferred, American Telephone, Bethlehem Steel, General Motors, Kennecott Copper, International Nickel, Lockheed, Du Pont, Cities Service, and Decca Records.

Ingersoll-Rand, up 10 3/4 Wednesday on a three-for-one split proposal, gained between two and three today.

U. S. government securities were mostly unchanged.

Attlee Gives Mao Hints For Russia To Mend Her Ways

By FRED HAMPTON

HONG KONG (AP)—Former Prime Minister Clement Attlee disclosed today he countered appeals by Red Chinese boss Mao Tse-tung that he try to engineer a shift in U. S. foreign policy by suggesting Mao urge Russia to mend her ways.

Attlee—just arrived with seven other touring British laborites from an 18-day visit behind in Moscow Curtain and three days in Bangkok—revealed for the first time details of his talk with Mao.

He said when Mao urged that British Laborite leaders try to influence the United States to pull out of the Formosa Straits and cease rearming Japan and West Germany, he suggested in turn that the Communist boss use his influence with the Kremlin to try to make Russia:

1. Give her people more freedom.
2. Ease restrictions on her satellite states.
3. Stop trying to undermine other governments.
4. Reduce Soviet armaments.

Attlee said neither he nor Mao made any promises regarding the other's proposals.

Chinese More Tolerant
Commenting on his tour, Attlee said he had found Chinese communism more tolerant than the Soviet variety. He said the Chinese Reds are slower and more careful in absorbing businesses, industry and farms.

"There is less rigidity in China than in Russia," he declared.

Aneurin Bevan and six other members of the party left by plane to visit Tokyo today. Attlee will remain here until Saturday, then fly to Singapore and Australia.

Attlee said he had found Red China about what he expected and that the "eyewash" was not excessive.

This was an apparent reference to his statement in London before making the trip that he was an expert on eyewash and would not be fooled by conducted tours, false statistics and unsubstantiated claims.

He said the touring Laborites were permitted to go where they wanted in China, although they had Communist companions with them constantly.

Reforms In Progress
"We found China run by the Communist party on principles on which we do not agree," he said.

"We tried to understand their point of view and we drew certain conclusions. One was that the Communists are making great reforms in China and this is a new departure in a government in that nation."

"We found the government incorruptible," he added. "We were impressed with the remarkable work in public health and especially with their anti-fly campaign."

He said China was the one Asian country where he saw no flies in the market place.

He said China's Red leaders face an immense task and, in contrast to the Russians, they make no pretense about it.

"They admit they have a great deal to do yet and that there are many shortcomings," he said. "In Russia they tell you the whole world is inferior to Russia and these Russians are the best. I heard no such boasting in China."

Too Many People
Work in public housing and education impressed Attlee, especially efforts made to educate the peasants. But he said he was disturbed by the enormous pressure of Red China's vast population on her limited land and resources.

Communist feeling about the Nationalist Chinese bastion of Formosa is strong, he said.

He said that when Red China's leaders discussed Formosa, they dropped their talk of peace. He said he had found nobody in Red China who advocated a peaceful settlement of the Formosa question—unless it be a peaceful surrender by Chiang Kai-shek's forces.

He said he did not specifically take up the question of American prisoners in China, but that in a general discussion he had argued that it was a mistake to hold people against their will.

Streetside Explosion Kills Detroit Father; Three Others Burned

DETROIT (AP)—A 46-year-old father of three was killed and three others hurt, one critically, in a streetside explosion that showered them with molten lead in suburban Harper Woods Wednesday.

Fatally burned was Cecil H. Coulter, of Royal Oak, who was turned into a human torch by molten metal and flaming fuel from a kerosene tank that exploded. The lead melting apparatus was being used by a waterline repair crew of which Coulter was foreman.

Mrs. Earl C. Auty, 54, was critically burned when her dress was set afire as she stood nearby. Two workmen, with Coulter, James Solano and James Polisan, were burned on their backs but not hospitalized.

coast from the El Paso, Tex., border country during the war. It's a Mexican slang expression originally applied in derogatory meaning to the 'zooties'—the smart-alecks, toughs, hoodlums or whatever you wish to call them of Mexican descent who wore long coats, peg-top, ankle-tight pants, duck-tail haircuts and thick-soled shoes.

No Race Pattern
"But now it has lost that significance. It has been adopted, or applied to, youngsters who are, or think they are, toughs of all grades. But we find it no longer applies only to Mexican-Americans. The kids recently involved show no pattern of nationality or race. It's simply become a symbol associated with the very widespread youthful gang problem."

"In fact, the viciousness today—the knives, beer can openers used as slashing weapons, saps, billies, switch-knives, palm saps and guns, the wanton cutting, beating or shooting of victims without reason—go far beyond the original zoot-suit or Pachuco troubles where just plain fists frequently were the only weapon."

Whitley said one Caucasian youth at Chantute had a "code of Pachuco," rules including no "ratting" on fellow members, no cooperation with authorities, helping each other. He said that was the only instance he had ever encountered of such a "code" and he is convinced it was "just one kid's bright idea."

Liquor figures in probably 90 per cent of the Pachuco trouble, he said, and narcotics, mostly marijuana, to a lesser degree.

XXVIII
A heavy fist banged on the office door and a hoarse voice shouted, "Miss Lily—come out and see what's happening."

Lily exclaimed in sudden anger, but stepped past Tancred and pulled open the door. "What is it?" she cried to the bartender who had knocked on the door.

"It's outside, there's about a hundred farmers come into town... they're going to vote!" Lily whirled on Tancred. "You knew?"

"I spent several hours riding around, talking to some of them. And so did some other people on Miller's side. I thought they weren't going to show up, but they did."

He started to go out, then stopped. Her eyes met his. "This is it?" "I won't be here tomorrow."

The door was open and in the saloon proper a stream of men were pouring toward the front door. Lily laughed. "All right, then." He nodded and went out.

When Tancred reached the street, some of the farmers had already gone into the marshal's office, but at least 25 or 30 were still outside, some on horses, some in farm wagons. All were armed. They were quiet, but their eyes were defiant as they faced the crowds that had poured out of saloons on both sides of the street.

Tancred pushed through the crowd of Texas men and townspeople and crossed to the farmers. He recognized one of the men as one he had spoken to that afternoon.

"We didn't think it was healthy to come in one by one," the man told Tancred. "We met outside of town and came in a body."

Luke Miller came into the print shop a few minutes before seven and found Tancred sitting on the cot. "We won," exulted Miller. "We won by a margin of 27 votes. The farmers did the trick. Tomorrow there'll be a new council, a new sheriff, a new judge..."

"And a new mayor?" Miller clapped Tancred on the shoulder. "There are going to be some changes in Sage City. It isn't going to be Jacob Fugger's private town any more. I've got to go home now. We're having a meeting later."

"I figured you were in when I saw the farmers." Miller starting off, stopped. "By the way, I don't think I saw you vote."

"I didn't. When I got ready there was too much of a crowd there." "That's a fine business," Miller chuckled. "Well, your vote wasn't needed, as it turned out, but don't let any of our friends know you didn't vote."

"I won't," Tancred said. Miller left the print shop and Tancred, drawing a deep breath, stood and drew out his carpetbag from under the cot. He stepped to the wall and took down his coat from the nail on which it hung. He put it on and without looking back, left the shop.

It was almost dark outside and no one paid any attention to Tancred as he walked to the livery stable. He entered and found the attendant forking hay for the horses.

"Here's that $100," he said. The man's mouth fell open. "What $100?"

"The price of that horse," said Tancred, pointing. "That's what you told me it was this afternoon." The liveryman backed away. I wasn't counting on selling any horse, not to you."

"You said $100," Tancred pursued. "That's more than the horse is worth, but I'm paying you what you asked. And here's $25 for a saddle—any saddle you've got in the place."

The man hesitated, then suddenly shrugging, got a saddle and went into the stall. Ten minutes later, the carpetbag dangling from the saddle horn, Tancred rode down the street.

The cowboys churned in the street, shouting, firing their guns at the sky and at store windows. Tancred was oblivious. He was astride his horse and no one singled him out for attack or abuse.

He rode north to the railroad tracks, crossed and rode down the street, past the house where Laura Vesser lived. He did not see her, did not glance at the house as he went by. Hunched in the saddle, he rode out of town.

Dave Helm had lived so long in Texas he had gotten out of the habit of walking. Luke Miller lived less than two blocks from Fugger's Store where he had received his instructions and his directions, but Helm mounted his horse outside the store and walked it down Smith Street, then right, past the Star printing office and, counting, to the fifth house on the right.

It was a square little house of no more than three rooms. It was nicely painted and reminded Helm of the houses in Missouri that were so unlike the Texas homes... and which he had not seen for many years.

Helm dismounted in front of the house and, stepping on the little veranda that was raised a few inches from the ground, knocked on the door.

A man opened the door and looked inquiringly at him.

"Is this the residence of Mayor Miller?" Helm asked, politely. "I'm Luke Miller, yes," was the reply.

"I'm sorry, Mr. Miller," Helm said. "There's nothing personal about this. It's a job of work, that's all."

He drew his revolver. Shock hit Miller.

Helm raised the revolver and fired.

Tornado Is Not 'A Social Event'

DUNCAN, Okla. (AP)—Two Duncan, Okla. women with storm cellars had to adopt rules for the neighbors who rushed there at the threat of a tornado. Among them were:

Don't let the kids yell and fight. Bring your own snacks; don't expect your hostess to furnish food.

No smoking; the air gets thick. Don't gripe because you're here. Be thankful your neighbor has a cellar. And don't criticize seating facilities.

And please leave immediately after the storm. This is not a social event.

COVERING AN HONOR

A correspondent asks: "Isn't it one of the oldest and soundest rules in bridge to cover an honor with an honor? Some of us had a not argument about this and we would appreciate your comments."

The "rule" in reference is indeed ancient, but it is no sounder than other slogans handed down from whist, auction bridge, etc. The fact is that sometimes you should and sometimes you shouldn't cover an honor—it is entirely a question of what is apt to be the loss or the gain.

Here is perhaps the simplest possible illustration of this point:

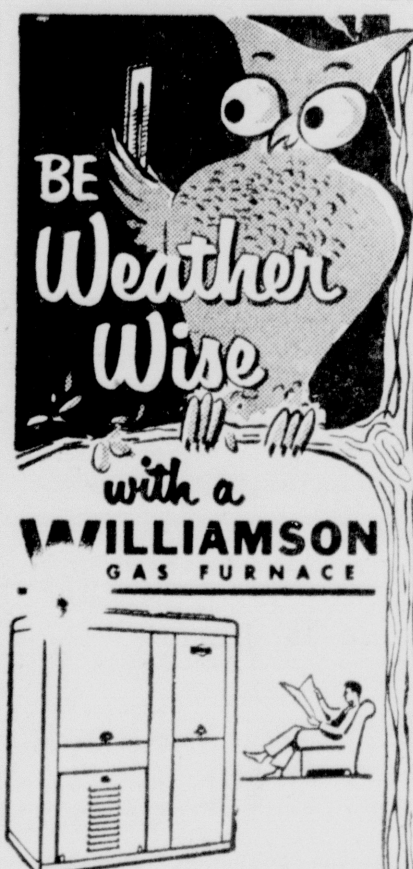

South dealer.		Both sides vulnerable.
♠ 10 4 3	♥ 9 6 2	♦ 8	♣ 9
♠ 7	♥ 10 5	♦ 10 9 6	♣ 3 2
♠ 10 8 6	♥ 7 5 4	♦ 10 8 6	♣ 5 3 2
N		E
W		S
♠ A K 9 8 2		♠ 7
♥ 7 4		♥ A 10 5
♦ A K		♦ 10 9 6
♣ A 7 4		♣ 3 2

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	2 ♠	Pass
4 ♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

East-West win three heart tricks at the start and then South gets in, presumably on a diamond shift. South has a clear-cut problem; to avoid the loss of a club trick, if possible. Since he is missing seven clubs including the king and ten, he will have to find an extremely lucky position of the missing honors—or will have to get the cooperation of his right-hand opponent.

So South draws trumps and hopefully leads the club queen from the table. If East is a blind follower of the always-cover-an-honor notion, South is on the threshold of success. He captures East's king and then finessees up to the J-9. But if East is not so wooden, declarer is helpless. The club queen wins that trick, of course, when East declines to cover, but South cannot possibly

Stroke Is Fatal To Sen. Maybank

FLAT ROCK, N. C. (AP)— Sen. Burnet Rhett Maybank, 55, a life-long South Carolina Democrat, died at his summer home here Wednesday of a heart attack.

Members of his household said he was "feeling fine" Tuesday and that death came in his sleep about 12:15 a.m.

His death reduced the number of Democrats in the Senate to 46. There are 48 Republicans and one Independent.

In traditionally Democratic South Carolina there was no doubt a Democrat would be named to succeed him.

A successor probably will be named in the general election Nov. 2. Meanwhile, Gov. James F. Byrnes, whom Maybank was elected to succeed when Byrnes left the Senate in 1941 to become a Supreme Court justice, may name a senator to serve until the election.

Maybank was re-elected in 1942 and in 1948 and had been reassured of re-election to another six year term as he was unopposed in the Democratic primary.

A native of Charleston, S. C., he served as his state's governor in 1939-41.

Long active in politics even before his election to the Senate, Maybank in private life was a cotton exporter.

Scientists believe that no people on earth is without the ability to use fire.

Skiing Now Big Michigan Sport

LANSING (P)—Skiing has become big business in Michigan, the State Tourist Council said — and signs indicate it's growing bigger.

A survey conducted for the council by the Bureau of Business Research of Michigan State College showed that skiers spent more than five million dollars in the state last season.

The first comprehensive appraisal of the skiing business was conducted by interviewing and counting skiers and questioning members of ski clubs.

The survey teams found that each skier spent $24.33 per trip. Nearly all spent at least one night away from home, and most stayed for a full weekend. For accommodations, they preferred motels, housekeeping cabins, private homes and lodges in that order.

Skiers were found to have spent an average of $36.77 for their skis plus an additional, undetermined sum for clothes and accessories.

Women were found to almost equal men among ski enthusiasts. Most skiers were in the 21-30 age group.

Professional, executive and other white collar workers predominated in the male skiers.

The researchers said they did not find a single farmer among the skiers.

Postoffice Employees Miss Their Spitoons

GRAND RAPIDS (P)—Several veteran employees at the main post office in Grand Rapids walked around this week with pursed lips and a searching look in their eyes — the building's custodians have been removed.

Postmaster H. Wayne Parker ordered removal of the ancient catchalls as part of a building cleanup operation.

The gnarled and dented cuspidors haven't been discarded, however, he said.

MAKES SLEEPING EASIER — Mattress maker Nathan Perlman, of Brooklyn, N. Y., seems happy as he holds $2260 that's all his. He found the money in a bag at his shop and turned the find over to the police. When no one claimed the cash, it became his. Perlman took the money to a Federal Reserve Bank, where the certificates, recalled 20 years ago, were exchanged for new bills.

Danforth

DANFORTH—Anita Toledo, of Chicago has returned to her home after visiting a few days at the Arthur Hammerberg home.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Berkey of Knox, Ind., spent the weekend at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. Paul Horst and family. Their children, Beth, Anne, Jane and John accompanied them. Mrs. Horst and Mrs. Berkey are sisters.

Charles Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Art Anderson was injured when he fell out of an apple tree while picking apples Saturday afternoon. He is recuperating at his home.

Birthday Party

Paul Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Anderson, was honored guest at a birthday party at his home on Monday afternoon. A party lunch was served by his mother. Attending were Jimmy and Donny Needham, Perry and Bobby St. Cyr, George Larson and Jerry and Donald Osmundson. Paul received many nice gifts.

Childish Pastime Gone Highbrow

BOSTON (P)—Erudite tots who go to Boston's Children's Museum play a new game called "Pinning the Blade on the Stegosaurus."

It's like "Pinning the Tail on the Donkey." But the blindfolded youngster has to pin a spare blade on the spiny back of a dinosaur.

Customers Buying But Stores Are Not

NEW YORK (P)—The customers are buying—but the stores are not. That's the complaint today of many manufacturers of soft goods lines, whether it be shoes, clothing, furnishings or notions.

They quote government statistics to back them up. These show that consumer expenditures and store sales generally are running fairly close to last year's level. But in many cases factory output—based on retail ordering, say factory managements—is off considerably from 1953.

Timidity can't be charged to consumers then, but to merchants' fear that the recession might still have backlash.

May Be Sorry

So the manufacturers argue, adding that some merchants may run out of goods later on and find they've run into delays in deliveries on late orders.

Merchants take this talk pretty calmly. For one thing, they feel sure that—with production capacity being what it is—they can get quick enough delivery to stock their shelves. For another thing, they know that factories always complain that merchants don't order early enough and in sufficient volume.

But retailers see no reason to carry stocks until demand justifies it. To do so would be expensive—and it could be risky.

This year the argument is more urgent than ever, due to the uncertainty that still hovers over the pre-Labor Day market.

Developments in the soft goods lines this week point up the debate and the fears.

Shoe Stocks Low

Wool prices are slumping in the Australian auctions, and New York

wool dealers fear that fabric makers will put off buying to see where prices settle. The wool being sold now in Australia probably wouldn't reach here much before December, and it would work its way through the mills and garment factories and finally show up on the clothing store racks in the fall of 1955. But uncertainty about its price already worries the wool market here.

Shoe and leather people, here for the American leather show, complain that retail shelves are too sparsely stocked. The National Shoe Manufacturers Assn. reports that output so far this year is running 7 per cent behind 1953. But members report that orders from retailers have picked up in the last month or so, and the year may yet end close to the 1953 level. The Tanners' Council of America adds hopefully that orders at the show are greater than expected.

Offers Crime Control Course

MINNEAPOLIS (P)—The University of Minnesota has established a new program to train students in the control of delinquency and crime.

It will be conducted jointly by sociology, social work, psychology and law instructors, with emphasis on broad liberal education rather than intensive technical training.

Motorists Given Life-Saving Tips

CHICAGO (AP)—Eight life-saving rules of driving were offered American motorists—in advance of the Labor Day weekend traffic rush.

In proffering the simple precautionary code, Ned H. Dearborn, president of the National Safety Council, observed that its use might keep many a motorist from becoming a cold fatality statistic during the holiday period. Council engineers estimate 390 persons will be killed next weekend in traffic.

At the head of the list is this suggestion: Stay close to home if you can. Extensive trips on high speed rural roads increase your risk. The others:

2. If you go somewhere, start in plenty of time so you won't be tempted to hurry and take chances.

3. Keep your speed about the same as that of other cars on the road. Passing and being passed is one of the most dangerous highway maneuvers.

4. Don't try to pass a line of cars all at once. Stay behind until each car ahead has passed and you are directly behind the slower moving vehicle.

5. Avoid sudden stops and lane changing. Signal your intentions and make your moves smoothly.

6. Don't follow too closely. Give yourself plenty of room to avoid a crash if the car ahead should stop or turn unexpectedly.

7. If you are returning from a vacation or resort with a heavily-loaded car, remember that the extra weight may require more acceleration time and stopping distance. The car's stability on curves may be different too.

8. Use extreme care if you are pulling a boat trailer. Drive slowly enough to keep it from whipping, avoid fast stops, and don't pass unless you have plenty of room.

Annual Festival Will Be Held At Rock Labor Day

ROCK—The Rock Lion's 12th annual Labor Day Festival will be an all day affair with fun for the whole family planned by the various committees in charge of the preparations.

The festivities will get underway Monday, Sept. 6, with the parade at 10 a. m. followed by lunch and entertainment all day on the school grounds, fireworks at 8:30 p. m. and a dance climaxing the day at the Riento Hall.

The Rock American Legion Band with its color bearers and home guard will lead the parade. The Rock Accordion Band and the Rock High School Safety Patrol also will participate as well as floats from Rock and out-of-town.

Anyone wishing to enter a float in the parade may do so by being at the Lion's club not later than 9:30 a. m. Monday and reporting to Frank Campbell, parade chairman. The Safety Patrol members are asked to report at the Lions Club by 9:30 a. m. Beginning at the clubhouse, the parade will follow the route of other years. Prizes will be awarded.

Queen Contest
The Queen contest is an added feature this year at the festival. The senior girls, Martina Simnaeve, Helen Hallinen and Doris Hill are the candidates. The winner will be crowned after the parade. Patsy Lusardi who has been visiting in Lower Michigan and also in Menominee with Mr. and Mrs. Keith Kleiber is not taking part in the contest.

A booth displaying agricultural produce will be erected on the grounds and anyone wishing to enter a display may bring his exhibit to the booth Monday morning. Prizes will be awarded to best entries.

A complete program for the whole family has been arranged which will include nail driving, chicken catching, log sawing, racing, water fight, and other activities and added attractions. The "chairplane" for the kiddies will be something new, as well as the fireworks display which will be held at 8:30 p. m.

Finnish Dish
Pop, ice cream, refreshments and lunch will be served on the grounds all day. Again the famous Finnish dish "mojakkka" will be served piping hot while the supply lasts.

Parking on the football field will be prohibited and the public is asked to co-operate.

Keep Closet In Neat Order

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

The teen-ager who's fortunate to have her own large closet should see to it that it's kept neat and well-organized. Besides storing your clothes, your closet should be fully equipped to act as a "first-aid station" to repair clothes in need.

The shelf within easy reach should hold these necessities: A sewing kit, a cleaning kit, a good clothesbrush, a pin cushion and a pad and pencil. Besides containing needles, threads, hooks and eyes, your sewing kit should have ribbon to repair the broken shoulder straps of an otherwise good slip. And a card of all colors of yarn will be handy for mending snagged sweaters.

By wallpapering a few hatboxes, then labeling them "school" and "dress", you'll never be at a loss when dressing in a hurry. Shoeboxes, covered with wallpaper, make excellent hosiery, glove and scarf boxes.

Another must for the well-dressed closet and teen-ager is a shoe kit with shoe creams, cloths, brushes and a rubber sponge for cleaning your dressy suede shoes. A shoe-tree is a wise investment, too, for keeping your shoes in the best of condition.

Whenever you take off a dress or suit or blouse and hang it in your closet don't forget to reach for your pencil and paper. Write a note saying what needs to be done to the garment before you can wear it again.

After writing "press", "sew", or "clean", pin the note right on the hanger. Then, set aside a couple of hours each week to take care of these tasks. Once your closet is well organized, you'll find you've worked out a rewarding system for storing and caring for your clothes.

Engineer Thinks Of Plan Dangers

Referring to plans made at Monday's meeting of the Indian Lake Property Owners Association executive board, engineer Percy Smith told the Escanaba Daily Press Wednesday that there "was a possibility" that the city of Manistique would not have enough water if the lake-level control dam was built at the M-94 bridge site.

Smith thought that a dam at the intake park location, though it would need to be eight-feet high, could better control the waters of the lake and insure the city of a satisfactory water supply. He pointed to fall periods of low water as danger times.

Formerly employed with Francis Engineering Company, Saginaw, and currently working for the Manistique Pulp and Paper Company, Smith also believed that the association should "bring in a competent consulting engineering firm" before beginning construction of the dam.

While supervising construction of the new pumping station last year, Smith made several private surveys of the M-94 dam site and came to his conclusion. His interest, he said, was in insuring enough water at the intake to adequately supply the city.

WATER—City Manager Orson Livermore opens the main valve at the new city pumping station at intake park Tuesday, allowing water to flow into the city mains for the first time. Construction was started on the new station, in regular operation for the first time, after voters approved a bond issue. The new station, in regular operation for the first time, is being operated by one new high-lift and one new low-lift pump. The latter was performing 30 percent above expectations and the former was pumping water over 10 per cent faster than expected. Operations may be temporarily shifted back to the old station during changes of equipment from one structure to the other. (Livermore Photo)

Sergeant Advises On Traffic Safety

Speaking in connection with the current statewide safety campaign being conducted by law enforcement bodies and safety groups, Sergeant Nick Modders of the Manistique State Police Post believed that "child traffic safety education is a continuing process and . . . responsibility."

"It is extremely important for older persons to set good examples . . ." he continued. Sergeant Modders cited the 100 child pedestrian deaths in Michigan during 1953 and the 3,600 injuries to youngsters. Eighteen were killed while riding bicycles.

"Bicyclists lost their lives entering highways without stopping, swerving, riding double, stunting and riding at night without proper light equipment," he explained.

Sergeant Modders also reminded that children "often do the unexpected" and drivers should help do their safety thinking for them. He pointed out that frequent causes of child pedestrian deaths during 1953 included crossing between intersections, stepping from behind parked cars and walking unsafely or playing in the roadway.

New Oil Refineries To Aid India's Industries

WASHINGTON—The young republic of India, where nearly a seventh of the world's population lives, is reaching for more oil to fuel its industries and drive the engines of an increasingly mechanized society.

In Bombay on the west coast, an American oil company is going into production soon with a $35,000,000 refinery. A still larger plant being built by a British concern will open next year in the same city. Another American refinery is under construction on the east coast at Vizagapatam. Together the three operations are expected to meet most of the country's needs.

India has little crude oil of its own, the National Geographic Society points out. The only working fields of importance are in Assam province in the northeast. They produce less than a tenth of the demand.

Oil Hunt On
India's oil imports have come largely from the Middle East. Iran was the chief source until troubles over the industry's nationalization there cut off the supply.

Now, however, the Indian government is preparing not only to process imported petroleum but also is seeking domestic wells. Intensive prospecting is going on both in Assam and near-by West Bengal Province.

More and cheaper oil will aid India's ambitious program of industrialization, one of the major features of the nation's first Five Year Plan inaugurated in 1951. The government has already built or is planning new iron and steel works, airplanes and locomotive plants, and factories making penicillin, telephones, machine tools, radio equipment and fertilizer. It is lending a hand to private industry in various fields and encouraging foreign investments.

India had a steel industry long before the Christian era. From convenient, high-grade iron ore, early craftsmen forged crude steel in small furnaces and shipped it to the Mediterranean for the famous Damascus blades.

Modern industry in India was slow to develop but once started, quickly gained speed. Large-scale coal and iron production got under way in the 19th century. Early in the 20th, the Tata Iron and Steel Works was established at Jamshedpur in Bihar Province. It is one of the largest steel plants in the British family of nations, of which independent India is now a Dominion.

World War II gave an emergency push to Indian enterprise. With European centers being bombed or threatened with bombing, the then British-controlled country began turning out armaments, tools and machinery, drugs and optical goods. Its first shipbuilding in modern times was initiated at Vizagapatam.

For future industry, India possesses many useful raw materials. Included, besides extensive iron and coal, are manganese, mica, bauxite, cobalt, chromite, copper and gypsum.

Nine Lettermen Named To Start In Escanaba Opener

Seven seniors and four juniors, nine of them letter-winners last season, were named today by Escanaba Coach Joe Milokna to start in the 1954 season football opener at Ironwood Friday night.

The Eskymos kick off the football campaign starting at 9:30 (Escanaba time) against the defending Upper Peninsula champions, Ironwood, went through eight games last year without a loss and in the 1953 finale drubbed Escanaba 46-0.

Spirit Is High

Inexperienced for the most part, the Eskymos will be underdogs in the opener but they are primed for action. "The spirit is very good this year and our boys are eager for the opening kickoff," Milokna states.

The Escanaba team will leave here at 8:30 a. m. tomorrow and stop for dinner in Iron River.

They will return from Ironwood Saturday morning.

Named to starting backfield positions were seniors Jim Beck at quarterback and Don Dahlin at right half, and juniors Dave Viau at fullback and Dale Manske at left half. Dave Judson, senior fullback, may get the starting call and is sure to see action if Viau opens the game, Milokna said.

Starting Linemen

In the line, the Eskymos will have Jim Mongrain and Lawrence Sauve at ends, Dick Johnson and Jim Gerdeen at tackles, Bob Ferguson and Pat Coyne at guards and Walt Nelson at center.

Thirty Eskymos will make the opening trip. The Eskymos will make their home debut on Saturday, Sept. 11, against the Sault Ste. Marie Blue Devils.

Ironwood will be guided by a new coach this season, John Ostrum, a graduate of Superior State College who has been coaching in Wisconsin high schools for 10 years, succeeds Merts Mortorelli.

Stengel 'Back In Business'

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP) — "Yesterday we were out of business; today we're back in it."

The fighters, George Justine and Ellwood Davis, Philadelphia welterweights, and Bobby Bell, Youngstown, O., and Ike Chestnut of New York, each received $1,500 for their appearance.

Justine, 140, suffered cuts over both eyes and a bruise under his left eye, but emerged a surprising winner over Davis.

Chestnut, 127, a former Golden Gloves champion, and Bell, a 25-year-old Ohioan recently out of the Army fought to a draw.

Television Puts On Free Fights

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Boxing history was made Wednesday night with nationally televised fight show, that was a free show also for those who attended.

Kid Gavilan came down with the mumps Tuesday, 24 hours before he was scheduled to make his eighth title defense against Johnny Saxton. The promoters — Herman Taylor and the International Boxing Club of New York — substituted two six rounders featuring four unheralded preliminary fighters rather than break the uninterrupted four-year Wednesday TV series.

No admission was charged for the show at the Met, a small club with about 5,000 seats. About 2,000 attended.

Yesterday's Stars

By The Associated Press
Pitching — Warren Spahn, Milwaukee Braves, won his 9th straight game and 17th of the season by beating Pirates 3-1.

Batting — Yogi Berra, New York Yankees, collected two singles and a homer, driving in two runs as the Yankees defeated the Cleveland Indians 4-1.

The Yankee battery of southpaw Ed Lopat and catcher Yogi Berra was the "whole" hit Wednesday. Lopat spaced nine hits for his 12th victory of the year and his 40th lifetime win over the Indians.

Berra laced three of the Yanks hits, including his 18th home run, scored twice and drove in two runs.

Skeet Championship Tourney Under Way

WATERFORD, Mich. (AP) — The nation's top shotgunners go after the 20-gauge title today in the National Skeet Shooting Assn.'s tournament.

Cal Helton of Niagara Falls, N. Y., teamed with Ben Di Iorio of Utica, N. Y., to win 28-gauge doubles Wednesday. Helton broke 99, his partner 98, for a 197.

Other titles determined Wednesday included:
Women's, won by Mrs. Ethel Balch of Tulsa with 94x100; juniors won by Ed Harris, 15, of Galveston, Tex.; sub-seniors, Ed Mabie, Chicago, 94x100; seniors, Carl B. Stutzman, Peoria, Ill., 95x100; Industry, Fred Missildine, Sea Island, Ga., 97x100.

The University of Oregon defeated nine other teams in June to retain the Northwest Intercollegiate bowling title.

Also a little lighter, according to equipment manager Erwin Kapp.

Athletic Director Biggie Munn, in a plain brown business suit, was on the sidelines.

"I feel a little funny," Biggie admitted. "It's been the first time in a number of years I haven't been out there. I'll miss the close association with the boys."

Coach Duffy Daugherty wore a new jacket but carried the old whistle handed down to him by Munn. All the coaches had brand new green caps. They explained that baseball coach John Kobs, also a faithful football assistant, had complained about all of them stealing his baseball caps to wear for football.

Time Runs Out But Spahn Huris Victory For Braves

By BEN PHILGAR
AP Sports Writer

Warren Spahn, whose sensational return to form in midseason made the National League pennant race a three-team affair, still is firing away with amazing precision although time probably has run out for his Milwaukee Braves.

After a mediocre spring and early summer during which he lost 10 games, Spahn hit his winning stride July 18. He won his ninth game that day, beating Pittsburgh. Wednesday night, again against Pittsburgh, he won his 17th. In between he's gone unbeaten.

With 25 games left, a minimum of five more starts for the 32-year-old left-hander, Spahn stands a good chance of winning at least 20 games for the sixth time.

23-7 Last Year

He won 23 while losing only 7 a year ago, the best of his nine seasons with the Braves. He also won more than 20 in 1947 and from 1949 through 1951.

Spahn's 3-1 victory over the Pirates moved the Braves within 6½ lengths of the first-place New York Giants and within 2½ of second-place Brooklyn.

Cincinnati beat the Giants 9-7 in a game played under protest from the third inning on by the New Yorkers. Chicago defeated Brooklyn 9-5 for its seventh straight triumph.

Philadelphia replaced St. Louis in fifth place with a 5-2 victory over the Cardinals.

Yanks Top Indians
The New York Yankees kept their pennant hopes alive with a 4-1 conquest of Cleveland, cutting the Indians' first-place margin to 4½ games. The Chicago White Sox split at Boston, losing the day game 7-2 and winning the night game 6-3. Washington defeated Detroit 4-0. Baltimore and Philadelphia weren't scheduled.

The Braves scored one run on three hits and two runs on one hit in beating Pittsburgh. Three first-inning singles produced the first run. The other two came on Andy Pafko's single, a two-base error by Curt Roberts, a sacrifice and a wild pitch.

The Dodgers committed four errors in losing to the Cubs, and their pitching was shaky. In the sixth inning the Cubs combined three hits with the three errors for four runs.

Use Seven Pitchers

The Giants used seven pitchers in a vain effort to halt the Redlegs. Ted Kluszewski led the 13-hit Cincinnati assault with four singles and drove in three runs.

A grand-slam home run by Del Ennis in the first inning paved the way for the Phillies' victory in St. Louis.

Yogi Berra and Eddie Lopat combined their hitting and pitching talents in the Yankees' defeat of Cleveland. Berra scored one run, then drove in two more with his 18th homer. Lopat rarely has been more impressive with his assortment of "junk." He gave up nine hits but only one—Jim Hegan's triple in the third—figured in the scoring.

Rookie Standout

Johnny Schmitz won his ninth game and pitched his second shut-out in blanking Detroit on seven hits.

Reserve outfielder Karl Olson and rookie pitcher Tom Hurd were the standouts in Boston's daylight victory over Chicago. Olson drove in two runs and scored a third. Hurd, who pitched the last 4 1-3 innings and allowed only two men to reach base, received credit for his first major league victory.

Johnny Groth hit a two-run homer and walked with the bases loaded to force home a third run in Chicago's night-game triumph.

Hockey Picnic To Be Held Sunday, Sept. 5

With final plans already made at a meeting this week, committees heaved a collective sigh of relief and looked only for a favorable nod from the weatherman in anticipation of the public Escanaba hockey picnic at Pioneer Trail park Sunday afternoon, Sept. 5.

"All preliminary preparations have been made and we know that everyone attending this picnic will have a lot of fun and an interesting afternoon," Al Dagenais, general chairman, said this morning.

"We have many games and a program of entertainment lined up, and Red Lauscher's popular orchestra is going to play all afternoon."

The picnic is being held to raise money for new uniforms and protective equipment for the Upper Peninsula hockey champions, Escanaba Hawks, in defense of their new title this coming season. The Hawk's successful climb to the championship last winter was a "rags to riches" story come true.

Peninsula hockey champions, Escanaba Hawks, in defense of their new title this coming season. The Hawk's successful climb to the championship last winter was a "rags to riches" story come true.

"Now that the Escanaba hockey team is the Upper Peninsula champion, it should look like a champion. That's why we want flashy new uniforms," Dagenais said.

Committee chairmen for the picnic are Bernie Amiel, Mr. and Mrs. Art Servant, games; Elmer Dagenais, food; Vic Groos, kitchen; Harry Wait, pop; Chuck Johnston, tickets; Francis Flagstad, Nick Thiery and Marc Benuchamp, cashiers; Marc Olson, men's help committee, and Mrs. Waino Petaja, women's help committee.

Mrs. Christiansen Is Ladies Golf Winner

Mrs. O. C. Christiansen won the Escanaba Golf Club ladies event yesterday by shooting a 54 with 21 handicap for 4 up on par.

Mrs. H. W. Needham fired 43-6 for 2 up and had low gross for the day. Mrs. W. A. Shaw and Mrs. F. C. Boyce were tied for third at even par.

Mighty Master, a plater, won over $100,000 in purses without ever having run in a stakes race.

Sports Roundup

TORONTO—A famous name United States football import flopped in his bid to catch on with a Big Four team here not because he lacked the ability . . . he was so punchy he couldn't remember the offensive signals, and the Canadians can't afford the luxury of a star unable to go both ways. . . .

Almost every Canadian pro coach will confide off the record he'd like to get blocking protection for his safety man on punts . . . to prevent those gang clobberings . . . that's why they won't risk star ball carriers like Billy Cross or Avatus Stone to return punts. . . .

The man who does the excellent commentary for the National Broadcasting Company on their televised hookup to the States is Lindsey Nelson . . . who attended the University of Tennessee four years on a football scholarship, yet never donned a varsity uniform for the Vols . . . because he (and they) realized early in his freshman year he'd never make it . . . the free board, etc., remained in force anyhow. . . . "A TV announcer," says Lindsey, "should be like a referee—do his job so quietly and well you don't know he's there."

A player banged out of bounds in Canada isn't over the sidelines . . . he's merely "out of touch." . . . The howls of the grandstand wolves here are just as lusty as those of the neighbors to the south. . . .

Minnie Minoso, of the White Sox, who shouldn't miss the Most Valuable Player award in the American League, once played in the same outfield with Max West at San Diego. . . . In those days the Cuban Comet's English was as skippy as a bikini. . . . On a fly ball he yelled to West, "You got it. You got it." . . . Befuddled, West stopped, and the ball dropped between them. . . . "Wotsa matter?" glared Minnie. "You no spik English?" . . .

It really doesn't matter to Dusty Rhodes who's pitching . . . After the lefty slugger hit a homer with Nashville, a teammate in the dug-out chortled. "Who said you couldn't hit those southpaws?" "Was that a left-hander out there?" eye-popped Dusty. . . .

The two International Leaguers best bets to make the majors are Montreal shortstop Chico Fernandez and Toronto's Elston Howard. Beats me why the Yanks converted Howard to catching with Yogi Berra under 30, Charley Silvera a great sub, Gus Triandos clouting at Kansas City, Hal Smith at cleanup for Columbus and Lou Berberet ready to jump up from Birmingham. . . .

The meat bill alone for the Detroit Lions during their pre-season training grind ran to seven grand . . . soothed somewhat by a phenomenal 27,000 season ticket advance sale. . . .

Promoters in San Francisco fear only the pro grid 49ers as a counter-attraction, and that includes the college games. . . . Paul Brown takes no chances—on a local radio show in which he is interviewed after each game, the Cleveland maestro writes out all the questions to be asked him on the air. . . . When the recent Washington Redskins coaching upheaval began early one a. m. in Sacramento, Joe Kuharich was munching a hamburger as a meek assistant coach and by the time he finished it was head coach. . . .

Beverly Baker Fleitz, ambidextrous tennis pretty, not only hits forehand drives with either arm but can also serve lefty in a pinch. . . .

Vern Wagne, the globe-trotting grappler who travels 10,000 miles a month, will help others settle down in his native Minneapolis. . . . he's opened a real estate business with Ken Bettersdorf, a former half-back teammate of the ex-Gopher end. . . . "Money ain't everything," said Al Well, and right away the boys were pointing out how the fight manager was mellowing—until the IBC's Harry Markson dissented. "But he thinks 'more money' is."

Between you'n'me, doesn't George Gainsford's suit for a cut of Kid Gavilan's earnings invite investigation . . . for the highly irregular fact that the Keed made some of that dough boxing the Emperor's own Sugar Ray Robinson? . . . (NEA Feature)

Iowa Grid Fans Plan New Years Vacations

By L. E. SKELLEY
IOWA CITY (AP)—Many enthusiastic Iowa football fans are planning December-January vacations in and around Pasadena, Calif.

These excited folk are counting upon Iowa to be the Big Ten representative in the Rose Bowl Jan. 1.

The fingering of travel brochures started late last November after Iowa came out of the pack to crush Purdue, 26-0, and Minnesota, 27-0, and forced Notre Dame, ranked No. 2 in the nation, to desperate clock-stopping measures to salvage a 14-14 tie.

No. 9 Last Year
Those performances zoomed Iowa into the No. 9 spot in the final Associated Press poll.

The 1954 Notre Dame-Iowa game at Iowa City was sold out July 6 with the first mail delivery of orders—a truckload. Later some $225,000 was refunded to those who won't be among the 53,000 fortunate enough to get into the stadium.

All this Rose Bowl talk is a bit puzzling to coach Forest Evashevski whose first two years at Iowa were so appreciated he was given a 10-year contract last December.

As of now, Evashevski's title chances are a "mighty slim." He puts it this way:

Lost Eight Linemen
"We have lost eight of our first 14 linemen from last year. Ten of our top 22 players are gone. It would take something of a miracle as far as injuries are concerned to get Iowa where we want her to be."

The former Michigan star thinks the Big Ten race will be "closer than it has been in a long, long time. For the first time that I can remember any one or six or seven teams could win the title."

"Up front is where Iowa may rise or fall this year. The Hawks 'rose' last fall because they had two slashing lines. Evashevski alternated with punishing effectiveness."

Backfield Loaded

Iowa is virtually certain of having a No. 1 line, led by guard Calvin Jones, close to the 1953 product. Reserves are the ain and pressing problem.

There are few worries about the backfield—it is "loaded." Capt. Binkey Broeder, top ground gainer for Iowa and the leading conference punter in 1953, will be back for his fourth year at fullback. He figures to head a potent offense, particularly if Jerry Reichow, sophomore quarterback last fall, resumes the pace he set in spring practice.

But Evashevski shudders when he thinks of Michigan State, Montana, Michigan, Ohio State, Indiana, Wisconsin, Purdue, Minnesota and Notre Dame coming up in that order.

Bolden Is Busiest Man On Grid Field

By ROBERT E. VOGES

EAST LANSING (AP) — Notes from the opening of Big Ten practice for Michigan State's Rose Bowl team:

As in any regular game, star back Leroy Bolden was the busiest man on the field in the fiesta for cameramen that started off Michigan State football practice.

With sports publicist Fred Staley calling the signal from a walkie-talkie, Bolden sprinted from one end of the stadium to the other. While the team physician winced, he hurdled over dummies, risking his legs for a spectacular shot.

There is one change in the MSC dress uniforms this year. The helmets are white with green stripes instead of green with white stripes this year.

also a little lighter, according to equipment manager Erwin Kapp.

Athletic Director Biggie Munn, in a plain brown business suit, was on the sidelines.

"I feel a little funny," Biggie admitted. "It's been the first time in a number of years I haven't been out there. I'll miss the close association with the boys."

Coach Duffy Daugherty wore a new jacket but carried the old whistle handed down to him by Munn. All the coaches had brand new green caps. They explained that baseball coach John Kobs, also a faithful football assistant, had complained about all of them stealing his baseball caps to wear for football.

Big Ten Grid Coaches Eye Sophomore Talent

CHICAGO (AP)—Big Ten football coaches are eyeing sophomores and juggling their seasoned players in efforts to plug the gaps left by graduation of 1953 mainstays.

For instance, as pre-season practice began with two-a-day drills around the conference Wednesday, Illinois coach Ray Eliot could count only four regulars returning from his co-championship squad.

Eliot, starting his 13th campaign as Illini grid chief, began working on the problem of replacements by giving Percy Oliver, a 200-pound sophomore from Miami, Fla., a try at right tackle and by shifting Steve Nesek from a reserve assignment at left end to No. 1 right end.

Illinois' first workouts were marred as Jim Minor, second string center, suffered a recurrence of a shoulder injury that will sideline him for 10 days to two weeks.

Minnesota's new head coach, Murray Warmath, moved co-captain Jerry Helgeson from center to guard in line with his policy of "getting our best 11 men in there." Chuck Stamschor apparently won the nod at center with his performance in spring practice.

The Gophers, turning from the single wing to the split T, stepped through a light offensive drill.

Two Iowa shifts were made at Iowa. Lou Matykievich was moved from quarterback, where he lettered last year, to end. William Reichow was switched from the backfield to a tackle slot.

At Michigan, coach Bennie Oosterbaan is looking for backfield replacement. He must rebuild as a result of the graduation loss of fullbacks Dick Balzhiser and Bob

Ted Atkinson Rides 3,000th Race Winner

NEW YORK (AP)—A little 38-year-old man has joined in the 3,000 winner class such turf greats as Eddie Arcaro, Johnny Longden and England's Sir Gordon Richards.

Ted Atkinson, a native of Canada, rode his 3,000th winner when he booted the Greentree Stable's Devastation to victory in the third race at Aqueduct Wednesday.

Sir Gordon's world record of 4,870 probably is beyond his reach as is Longden's American standard of about 4,400 but Ted is within striking distance of Arcaro, who has passed the 3,300 mark.

Sport Shorties

Phil Rizzuto, shortstop and top flight bunter for the New York Yankees, uses a very relaxed grip on his bat.

A two-threat coach is Ellis P. (Dumpy) Hagler at Duke University. Besides directing football lines in action, he also has coached the Duke University golf team to 14 conference titles in the last 19 years.

Milt Lippitz, a 300 bowler of Chicago, broke his hip when someone tossed him a baseball. He tried a one-handed catch and slipped on the bowling alley.

The New York Giants' all-time record for hitting safely in consecutive games was set by Freddy Lindstrom with 24 in 1930.

Tigers Slip Into Second Division

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Detroit Tigers slipped into the second division Wednesday night by dropping a 4-0 decision to the Washington Senators.

Detroit failed to find the range on Washington hurler Johnny Schmitz, who held the Bengals to seven scattered hits.

The Senators piled on starter Al Aber for four runs in the third inning. Wayne Terwilliger singled with one out. Aber fumbled a bunt by Schmitz. Eddie Yost sacrificed and Terwilliger scored on an infield out.

Mickey Vernon singled to score Schmitz and Aber was chased when Clyde Vollmer walked and Tom Umphlett and Ed Fitzgerald singled, scoring Vernon and Vollmer.

Ray Herbert and Bob Miller finished for the Tigers, holding the Senators scoreless.

The loss dropped Detroit a half-game behind Boston which split a day-night doubleheader with Chicago.

Champions Pacing Golf Tournament

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—National Open champion Ed Furgol, PGA champion Chick Harbert and British Open champion Peter Thompson today led a field of 56 golfers into the opening round of the $15,000 Rubber City Open.

Twenty-one of the 29 leading PGA money winners are in the four-day, 72-hole competition for the $2,400 first prize.

Navy Mapmaker Declared Loyal

WASHINGTON (AP)—Stating that a "grave injustice" has been done Abraham Chasanow in reports linking him with suspected subversives, the Navy has cleared the veteran mapmaker of security charges and ordered him returned to duty.

The charges were made against Chasanow more than a year ago when he was suspended from his civilian job at the Navy hydrographer's office. Once cleared by a security board, Chasanow had been told, nevertheless, that he could no longer be kept on as a Navy employee.

Asst. Secretary James H. Smith said statements by individuals who linked Chasanow with suspected subversives had done him a "grave injustice." The Navy official said a second review board had found that:

"Any contact with individuals or organizations alleged to be subversive, which Mr. Chasanow may have had, were at a time when such individuals or organizations were not generally considered to be subversive, and that such contacts were isolated, short, or casual and were brought about by Mr. Chasanow's normal civic activities, and for no other purpose."

Smith said the Navy "wishes to emphasize the findings of the board that the pattern of Mr. Chasanow's life 'portrays an above average loyal American citizen.'"

Turnpike From Toledo, Ohio, To Straits Proposed

MACKINAC ISLAND (AP)—The 1955 Legislature may be asked to authorize a toll turnpike running from Toledo, Ohio, to the Straits of Mackinac, which divide Michigan's Upper and Lower Peninsulas.

A 100 million dollar bridge being built across the straits is on schedule and should be completed by Nov. 1, 1957, a joint legislative committee studying highway needs was told Tuesday.

"The next Legislature certainly should give consideration to broadening the power of the (Michigan) Turnpike Authority," Sen. Haskell L. Nichols (R-Jackson) told his colleagues.

The authority now is limited to development of toll-financed super-highways between Bay City and Toledo and between Detroit and Chicago. Tolls would be pledged to payment of authority bonds issued to build any project it finds feasible.

Prentiss M. Brown, chairman of the Mackinac Bridge Authority, brought up discussion of a Toledo-Straits turnpike to handle traffic growth anticipated with completion of the big bridge. Straits traffic now is handled by ferries.

Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich) said Michigan could draw an additional 11 million dollars in federal aid for highways under a revised distribution program recently enacted by Congress. He said the increase would give Michigan a yearly allotment of 30 million dollars in federal money.

Maxwell Halsey, executive secretary of the State Safety Commission, urged support of an accelerated highway construction program, which has been proposed by Republican legislators and Democratic Gov. Williams.
